Research Experience

Natural Language and Data Visualization Interplay in AR/VR, 2023 - Present
My research explores the complex interplay between natural language and data visualizations in AR/VR environments for users with diverse background and expertise levels. This work is situated within the broader context of Generative AI-powered immersive analytics with multimodal interaction.

Sensemaking with Heterogeneous data, 2023
Role: First Author
This study explores the potential influence of integrating text and visualization in a data analysis tool on users' data sensemaking process and outcomes. With the increasing accessibility of various datasets online, there is a challenge in extracting insights from multiple datasets due to their differing formats and types. To formulate a concise research question, we conducted self-experiments using toy datasets on gun violence to compare human and GPT-4 analyses and a formative study. (semi-structured interview)

Towards understanding in-context learning with contrastive demonstrations and saliency maps, 2023, Link
Role: Co-Author

We investigate the role of various demonstration components in the in-context learning (ICL) performance of large language models (LLMs). Specifically, we explore the impacts of ground-truth labels, input distribution, and complementary explanations, particularly when these are altered or perturbed.

Beyond Replication: How Timing and Schematic Similarity Shape Example-Based Data Visualization Design, 2023

Role: Co-Author

This research investigates the influence of examples on visualization design, identifying key factors in idea transfer and effectiveness and guiding future example-based design studies.

Intents, Techniques, and Components: a Unified Analysis of Interaction Authoring Tasks in Data Visualization, 2022 - Present

Role: First Author

This theory paper introduces a framework to compose interactions for data visualization. There is growing interest in interaction authoring tools in data visualization; however, the literature focuses on communication and data analysis rather than how to compose interactions. We analyzed 45 real-world examples to consolidate existing models and create a new model. Currently, a new study is in progress.
